

Weight Gauge in Loaded Plane Finds Center of Gravity

Holding the instrument board which shows which part of plane is heaviest

For helping the pilot to determine the center of gravity of his loaded plane, a new device shows whether the ship is "nose heavy," "tail heavy" or "wing heavy." It is the librascope or visual balance indicator